Dear Prof. Ferrater,

I am writing to ask whether you would be willing to undertake reviews of the following papers for the Journal:

Gilbert Ryle. Introduction. The revolution in philosophy, Macmillan and Co. Ltd., London, and St. Martin's Press, New York, 1956, pp. 1-11.

Gilbert Ryle. Introducción. La revolución en filosofía, Spanish translation of the preceding by Montserrat Macao de Lledó, Revista de Occidente, Madrid 1958, pp. 1-13.

W.C. Kneale. Gottlob Frege and mathematical logic. Ibid., pp. 26-40.

W.C. Kneale. Gottlob Frege y la lógica matemática. Ibid., pp. 33-49.

D.F. Pears. Logical atomism: Russell and Wittgenstein. Ibid., pp. 41-55.

D.F. Pears. El atomismo lógico: Russell y Wittgenstein. Ibid., pp. 51-68.

A.J. Ayer. The Vienna circle. Ibid., pp. 70-87.

A.J. Ayer. El círculo de Viena. Ibid., pp. 87-106.

P.F. Strawson. Construction and analysis. Ibid., pp. 97-110.

P.F. Strawson. Construcción y análisis. Ibid., pp. 117-133.

We would like to publish five separate reviews (Maximum length about five hundred words apiece) of the five papers, listing in the heading of each review both the original paper in English and the Spanish translation. Four other papers in the volume (two by Paul and one each by Wolheim and Warnock) are to be listed by title, as containing very little that touches on the field of the Journal. However, either or both of the Paul papers may receive a very brief review, in place of listing by title, if after seeing them you think it preferable.

As you know, we would ask for completion of the reviews within three months. We failed to obtain a review copy of the English book, but we have a copy of the Spanish translation which we will send you if you can undertake the reviews. We would have to depend on your having the English edition available as probably the translation should not be reviewed without sight of the English original for comparison.

Very sincerely yours,
