Dear Dr. Ferrater:

The Departments of Philosophy and Spanish and Portuguese are pleased that you will come to our campus to give some lectures and take part in informal sessions with faculty and undergraduate students.

For the first public lecture in English I suggest Ortega y Gasset; for the second lecture in English, Francisco Romeró's philosophy. We would be greatly interested in having you speak in Spanish somewhat informally to the staff and graduate students of the Department of Spanish and Portuguese on the subject of the world of the writer, using for illustrative purposes Calderón's world. Each lecture would last some 40 - 50 minutes to be followed by question.

As a possible date, we suggest March 14 - 17.

I am advising Mr. Bernard Perry of our Press about your coming. He has been interested for some time in publishing some philosophic treatises relative to Spanish or Spanish-America cultures.

With all good wishes, I remain

Sincerely yours,

Harvey L. Johnson
