Dear Mr. Ferrater Mora,

You probably already have heard--or in any event will hear very shortly--from Mr. Troutman. I believe that it is his plan to drive from NYC to Bryn Mawr on the afternoon of the 13th, next Monday. He will stay until the morning of the fifteenth, and hope to see you sometime on the 14th. I have written to the Deanery asking that he and his wife be given accommodations there on the 13th and 14th (the nights of those dates). I hope there are accommodations to be had; if not, I suspect that he can find something at the Haverford Hotel. He is very much looking forward to meeting you and talking with you.

My marks had to be in finally yesterday, the sixth. But I still have comments to put on many of the term papers that came into me, and I shall obviously be busy throughout this entire week doing that. That will delay meⁱⁿ leaving here; my being delayed in leaving here will delay me in leaving Texas; and consequently I shall be somewhat delayed in coming to Bryn Mawr this summer. But I'll make it. And I'll hope to see you you there later on. Again, good fortune to you and your wife in your summer travels.

Sincerely,

Julia

P.S. I've asked Madeline Stone to show Mr. and Mrs. Troutman the College campus and something of the surrounding area on the 14th.
