Estimat Josep Maria:

La carta que incloc speaks for itself. Et tindré al corrent.

Em fa molt de goig que vinguis a Santander. Ja sé que parlaràs sobre l'incert esdevenidor de la filosofia política. Jo encara no sé de què parlar. Potser de "La teoria democràtica de la cruïlla". Veurem.

Abraçades

Dear Julia,

Further to our recent conversation at the Moir's I'm enclosing a brief biographical note and a summary of my friend José Ferrater Mora's novel. Professor Ferrater is a very distinguished Spanish philosopher, living in the United States, who has published widely and whose work has received considerable attention in several countries. The Spanish version of The Observer has been very successful. I've read it: it is a very good novel, very much in tune with the literary taste of today.

I'm off to Florence in a few hours and cannot send you the typescript now. I hope to do so as I get back from my academic journey abroad. Meanwhile, I'd be very grateful if you passed on the c.v. and the resume to the appropriate people at Collins.

Thank you very much for your help. Give my regards to Stephen. Montserrat sends hers to both of you.

All the best,

Your sincerely
