Dear Professor Ferrater Mora:

I was most pleasantly surprised to open the package you sent me and see, with your inscription, the two books of yours you were kind and generous enough to send me. For which I thank you cordially.

I shall early next week, send you two books of mine. But I must wait to receive one of them from the Chicago University Press, for I have of this one none on hand.

I am afraid you are the loser, but it is the best I can do to make effective recognition of my appreciation of your kindness.

I have no doubt I owe the act to some things that Rodriguez-Alcalá might have said to you about me. He wrote me sometime ago in praise of you — but I did not need his assurance, for I have long been aware of your work, although I must confess that I am not acquainted with it.

I am sending Rodriguez-Alcalá a copy of this note.

With my very best wishes and kindest regards,
I am, sincerely yours,

Eliseo Vivas
