Dear Mr. McGuire,

I am pleased to learn that Anthony Bonner's edition of the selected works of Ramon Lull is completed.

Thank you for your invitation to examine Mr. Bonner's work. Unfortunately, I must decline this invitation for various reasons, among them the following: (1) I do not have the necessary scholarly competence to appraise Mr. Bonner's work; (2) I am literally swamped by projects which have been piling up in the last five years, and which will take a considerable amount of time to carry on (if I am fortunate enough to be able to carry them on). Even if you, and Professor King, assumed, out of sheer generosity, that (1) is false, I can assure you that (2) is true.

With my best wishes,

Sincerely,
