Dear Professor Ferrater:

Would you be interested and willing to do a review of the new ENCYCLOPEDIA OF PHILOSOPHY (edited by Paul Edwards) for Man and World? What I have in mind is a major critical as well as expository, article-length review. Of course, you would be free to select whatever themes you wish to emphasize. It would be helpful as well as appropriate to the journal to have such a review in about one year or less. The review should be in English.

I hope that you are free to say "yes" to the invitation. If you have any questions or if you need some time to think the matter over, please let me know. If you are agreeable, I will ask the publisher to mail a set to you.

With my good wishes in any case,

Sincerely,

Maurice Natanson
