Professor José Ferrater-Mora
Department of Philosophy
Bryn Mawr, Pa.

Dear Professor Ferrater-Mora,

My colleague in California, Avrum Stroll, has asked me to get in touch with you. The department there is anxious to have you out, and to interest you in a position there. From what Stroll has told me, I gather you would want to visit late next year. This has a disadvantage for them, because they have to fill the position in April, or lose it in the bureaucratic shuffle, and scramble for professorships. Therefore Stroll suggested that you and I talk, either at the APA or by phone, about where both you and I stand (since I have to decide on whether to go back next month, and I will definitely be influenced by your intentions). So could you call me some evening at my home (212-798-8525), or let me know if we can meet during the APA affair.

With best wishes,
