Dear Professor Ferrater Mora:

I have written to Rahv, telling him that you have sent him your article at my suggestion, and adding (for what it is worth) my recommendation of it for the Partisan Review. I hope this démarche will prove successful.

Thank you for offering to look out for the books for me.

Don't bother to answer this note, as I know you are very busy. But I shall hope to hear from you after get settled in Paris.

Meanwhile, bon voyage with my best regards to you all.

Sincerely
[signatura]
