Dear Sr. Faust:

Through the kindness of Mrs. V. A. Grodsky, of the Publications Division, Carnegie Institution of Washington, I have received two Spanish Institute publications dealing with the biology of the Mediterranean. I am very happy to have them for our sectional library of the Division of Marine Invertebrates, which concerns itself largely with marine biology and the crustacean collections of the National Museum.

I do not know that our Smithsonian library has exchange relations with the Instituto, but I am referring the matter to our librarian, because the series appears to be a very valuable one. In any case, if you are in a position to send copies of the biological publications to the Division of Marine Invertebrates, U. S. National Museum, the courtesy would be keenly appreciated.

I am sending one of your cards over to our Mr. E. P. Killip, Head Curator of the Department of Botany.

Sincerely,

Waldo L. Schmitt,
Head Curator,
Department of Zoology.
