Dear Renata,

I was very, very pleased to hear that you liked my pages. Some news are good, after all.

I have sent to you a copy of the typescript in Spanish of my entire novel. As I told you, the book will be published next June, or next September --depending upon how much time the publisher needs for promotion--. The publisher (sorry to repeat words) is Alianza Editorial (Madrid), the most respected firm in Spain at present.

I would be very, perhaps immensely, happy to see my novel eventually published in English. Thank you again for your interest.

If Transparencies has not arrived yet, I will send another copy.

Love,
