Professor José Morá Ferrater
Bryn Mawr College
Bryn Mawr, Pennsylvania

Dear Professor Ferrater:

We are preparing the first issues of a journal devoted to the history of philosophy which will begin publishing in the summer of this year and in which critical reviews of books in the same area will also be included.

We have received for review: Wonfilio Trejo, Introducción a Dilthey. Xalapa, Ver., Universidad Veracruzana, 1962. 290 p.=Cuadernos de la Facultad de Filosofía y Letras.

I am authorized by Professor Richard H. Popkin, associate editor, to ask you if you would agree to review the books in the way and form which you find most suitable to the subject? While the length of the review is left to the reviewer's own judgment and his approach to the problems under discussion, it is desired that the review be more than a brief notice. The date we would like to expect to receive the review is six months after the day of acceptance.

If you choose to accept, and we hope you will, we will be glad to send the book to you immediately. For your convenience, a self-addressed post card is included.

Yours very truly,

Salih Alich
