Querido Amigo:

I am happy to be able to inform you that Professor Willard A. Smith of the Department of History of the University of Toledo has recently arrived in Spain in order to carry on historical research relating to the history of Spain in the twentieth century. Professor Smith is a serious and competent researcher, and I know that he will make excellent use of any material that he finds on this topic. I have taken the liberty of suggesting to him that he call upon you for assistance and advice. Any aid that you can provide will be deeply appreciated.

With best wishes,

Cordially yours,

Lewis Hanke
Director
