Dear Dr. Vicens,

I have just returned to Liverpool and I want, without further delay, to thank you most profoundly for your kind and generous gift to me, via Jordi Rubió, of your valuable book on the Nineteenth Century. I was delighted to secure a copy.

I regret that we were unable to meet during my brief stay in Barcelona; I should have liked to thank you personally. I hope, however, that I shall have the privilege of meeting you at some future date. Naturally, if there is anything that I can obtain or do for you here in England, I shall be most happy if you will let me know.

With kind regards,

Yours sincerely,

(N. J. LAMB)
