Professor Jose M. Ferrater Mora
Bryn Mawr College,
Bryn Mawr, Penna.

Dear Mr. Ferrater Mora:

The Bryn Mawr Club of Cleveland is delighted to hear from Mrs. Paul that you will be able to partake in the Cleveland College Lecture Series on Great Philosophers next October.

This series of four lectures will be held in the new Cleveland College building at Western Reserve University. The hall holds about 250. Your audience, all college graduates, have indicated a desire for a serious formal lecture with discussion afterwards. A short reading list of one recommended book (paper bound if possible) would be appreciated for summer reading in preparation for the series.

As the first lecturer will speak on Plato, your talk would be the second or third Monday in October depending on how the rest of the schedule works out. As the Planning Committee has not heard from all the colleges yet, the plans are still indefinite. I will write you again as soon as the plans are more settled.

We are certainly looking forward to the pleasure of having you with us.

Sincerely yours,

Margaret J. Clowes
