

PETERHOUSE,
CAMBRIDGE.

19th February, 1959.

Dear Colleague,

I was very sorry to hear about the circumstances which would have prevented you from attending our gathering in Paris on 23rd February. Since then, however, Braudel, Söderlund and I have found it necessary to postpone the meeting until March 13th. I trust this postponement will enable you to be with us on that occasion. If, however, for any reason you are still unable to travel, would it be possible for you to nominate a substitute, if necessary by consulting with your other colleagues in Spain.

Yours sincerely,

M. Pollan

M.M. Postan.
