

October 25, 2986 (actually, 1986)

Eric van der Luft, Ph.D.
108 Deborah Lane
North Syracuse, N.Y. 13212

Dear Eric:

I enclose herewith copy of letter to Professor Alston. It is substantially the same letter I wrote some time ago; I have added only in two places: one, concerning the name of the Distinguished Faculty Fellowship, and another with the aim of assuaging any possible fears of analytic-minded (some may say, anal-retentive) philosophers.

Although I have WordStar (among other processing programs) your diskette did not go beyond providing the names of the files. My Tandy 2000 is obviously not totally IBM compatible (not even all IBM machines are totally IBM compatible).

I very much hope you will be given the D.F.F.

Greetings to your wife.

Cordially,

