Dear Mr. and Mrs. Ferrater,

If I had not been out of town and foolishly without your address (and ours!) I would have got this letter to you sooner. As it is I hope you have not already left.

Betsy and I are too full of amazed gratitude to find adequate expression. You have some idea I hope of this most fortunate of events. Our only regret is that we will perhaps be starting our life in a style to which we will not be able to afford to become accustomed to.

We will certainly take care of your apartment and be regular in our accounts and reports. In the meantime take comfort in your own generosity for it is all too rare these days.

I forgot to take the chart of the electrical outlets. If you could leave it somewhere for us we would be grateful once more.

Have a most enjoyable and effective summer. When you have been in Paris for some time I shall send you the address of a good friend who will practically be your neighbor.

Many thanks and BON VOYAGE,

Very sincerely,

James Hughes
