

January 24, 1960

Dear Mr. Ferrater Mora,

I've heard it said somewhere (by Schrecher?) or read it somewhere that P. made the "mistake" of "confusing" "certitude" and "certainty". Are you familiar with this claim? It is common place enough, to be sure; but I shall be dealing with it as inadequate, and if somebody in particular has made it, I should acknowledge that fact. Would you give about one minute's worth I thought to the matter? If at the end of the minute the claim just seems to you to be a claim, [il-legible] to no own in particular, please, forget about it.

In a day or two I'll mail [il-legible] Stone's M.A. thesis to you.

Sincerely,

[signatura]