

November 4, 1974

Dear Mr. F.M.,

I come back here with my brain in better shape – that is to say, with my theories beginning to become consolidated with one another. Thanks, in considerable measure, to good talks with you.

This is a happy time for me, this time of the linking –together of the theories. It's got to go on for awhile yet, but it is apparent to me that I have within me now the capacity for a long writing on the order of that thesis. That is to say, this one will be as complicated as the thesis, though it will be directed towards political matters. Which is not to say that it will be "objective", because it won't.

I might come down again this term. If so, I'll write ahead of time because, of course, having another lunch or two with you would be my hope.

Sincerely
[Signatura]