

I'm moved in to a
new address, settled,
and ready this morning
to sit down to my typewriter to see if it knows any philosophy.

Sincerely,

Julian

Dear Mr. Ferrater Mora,

Unpacking my books,
I soon came across

Your volume of Bayle, which I return to you now. I think you'll find it in good condition; I'm only sorry you had to be concerned about where it had gotten to.
