Dear Professor Mora:

Please accept my apologies for the extreme informality of this note: I have just been operated on (appendectomy) and am not able to go to my office for proper equipment.

This is just to acknowledge your completely fascinating paper: it arrived safely two days ago. I am fascinated by it: I have just finished working on a paper on the being of things and their presence as meanings. I shall write you my comments as soon as possible--right now I am delighted with your paper and look forward to working with it.

Yours sincerely,

Erazim V. Kohák

P.S. The copy of your paper you sent me seems to be the original — do you want it returned before the meeting?
