Dear Prof. Mora:

By way of introduction, I am Charles J. Abate, president of the Wilkes College Philosophy Club. This year, our club has decided to sponsor a public lecture, of philosophical and general interest, by a distinguished professor of philosophy.

I should like to ask you to consider the possibility of presenting a paper at Wilkes College, some time during the school year of 1971-72. Since there are several colleges in and about Wilkes-Barre, we would like the lecture to be open to the general public, to insure as large an audience as possible.

Unfortunately, we are a new club and have only a limited amount of funds with which to work. Therefore, in addition to our providing for your travel fees and general expenses, we would appreciate an estimate of the honorarium which you would expect, so that we may remain within the bounds of our budget.

If you are interested in delivering such a paper, please write me, in care of the Department of Philosophy at Wilkes College, including a list of suggested dates and topics. I would be pleased to hear from you soon.

Sincerely,

Charles J. Abate
