Dear Professor Ferrater-Mora:

It is with great pleasure that I finally forward to you two sets of American Writing Today. I won't recount for you all the problems encountered both in Washington and at our printing facility in Manila, but there were times that I doubted that the book would ever come out.

As you may know, we are prohibited by law from disseminating our materials within the United States, but we can send you a few more copies of the book when our sea shipment arrives from the Philippines (in another two to three months). When requesting additional copies, please indicate which volume you would like -- or both. Address your request to Forum Books; USIA/ECA/AA, Room 527; 1776 Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W.; Washington, D.C. 20547.

I thank you for your patience and for your valuable contribution to a book that I am confident will be well and widely used in our overseas programs for many years to come.

With best regards,

Sincerely,

Merrill S. Miller
