Dear Professor Mora,

Thank you very much for your letter of March 18. I beg to excuse the delay of my answer which is caused first through my absence during the vacations and second through my waiting for an answer from Prof. Vasquez. I had written him an airletter at the same time as I wrote to you, but I do not want to wait any longer for his answer.

It is, as you remark, quite natural that errors cannot be avoided in such a vast enterprise. I shall have much pleasure in informing you about those I notice. My remark refers to the entry "Ryle" who does not belong to the Cambridge school, but is Professor in Oxford. He is influenced by Wittgenstein. Thank you for drawing my attention to your remark on p.945. You are giving me, however, too much. The distinction between the three acts of transcendence forms the basis of Jaspers's first "system", as propounded in his Philosophie.

It is very kind ^{of you} to offer me a copy of your new book. If you have a spare copy I shall be very glad to see it, though you must remember that my knowledge of the Spanish language is very poor.

Yours sincerely

J. H. Meinert
