Dear Professor Ferrater Mora:

After writing to you the other day, I found myself sufficiently indignant with the Times for its treatment (or rather, non-treatment) of your book and Ortega's ^{so} that I wrote a letter to the editor (which word my typewriter seems rather to ~~want~~ to "take into ~~the~~ "idiot").

I received an answer from him today. He says, in part: "a review of the Ortega book and a review of Professor Ferrater Mora's Man at the Crossroads will be appearing shortly I am certain."

Yours cordially,

Willard R. Frank
