

April 13, 1978

Dear José,

What a beautiful day it was and how I did enjoy visiting the Collage again and seeing you. Thank you very much for making arrangements so that I could come. I appreciated your inviting me for lunch –it was such fun.

We had a nice weekend in the country, but have been terrifically busy since we have been home. President Ford is here on a visit and we had dinner with him Tuesday evening (only 12 in all). Was an extraordinary opportunity. I am sure he is very competent, but what impressed me most was what an extremely fine person he seemed to be. Hope he wins, the future may be better.

My aunt arrive today and cousin tomorrow to stay through the weekend. Then back to peace and quiet and work.

I will write George Weaver a note. Hope we can get Mr. Logan, but I don't know how good the chances are. We still don't have official approval to search and then seem to be a lot others interested. I'll be sure that his dossier gets a careful review.

Have a good trip this June –sounds great. Thanks again for everything.

Devotedly,
[Signatura]